

August 5, 2008

Dear Faith Formation Home School Parents:

I wanted to take a moment to remind you of the Guardian Angels Home School Policy.

1. Home School Families will be registered in the Faith Formation Program.
2. Home School Families will receive student books from Guardian Angels.
3. Home School Families will submit monthly journals notifying the Faith Formation department of the progress they are making with the curriculum. (these will be available in September with your books).
4. Home School Families will attend Faith Formation Family events including but not limited to, Kick off meeting, Advent Evening, Ash Wednesday Mass, Reconciliation Services.
5. Home School Families will be expected to attend age/grade appropriate parent student sessions offered throughout the year.
6. Home School tuition is one half of the regular Faith Formation tuition.

I will have your student books as well as your journal sheets available for you at our first session on Wednesday, September 17, 2008. You will also receive a complete calendar for the year.

If we have non compliance of these policies, your family will not be able to continue in our Home School Program. Thank you for respecting these policies.

Being a home school family does not mean you are not a member of the Faith Formation Community. We are all one parish community and will continue to be just that. I look forward to working with you and your family during the upcoming school year. Please feel to contact me with any questions regarding Guardian Angels Faith Formation.

Sincerely:

Emily Klinker
